

The National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Catholic Council are committed to protecting the privacy of our users. This privacy policy outlines how we collect, use, and protect your personal information in compliance with the Australian Privacy Act 1988.

Collection of Personal Information

We may collect personal information from you, including but not limited to your name, email address, phone number, and address. We collect this information when you provide it to us through our website or by other means, such as email or phone. We may also collect information about your use of our website, including your IP address, browser type, and operating system.

Use of Personal Information

We will only use your personal information for the purposes for which it was collected, which may include:

Providing you with information, products, or services that you have requested from us;
Sending you promotional materials, newsletters, and other communications related to our products and services, including keeping you informed on the referendum and issues rallying to NATSICC activities;
Improving and customizing our website and its content;
Responding to your inquiries and feedback;
Complying with legal obligations and protecting our legal rights.

In addition, we may use your personal information for the following purposes:

Submissions from Catholic organisations: The organisation's statement, position, or resource relating to the upcoming referendum, and organisation representative name, position, and email address. The submissions may be included as resources on the site.

Mailing list: Name, organisation, and email.

Disclosure of Personal Information

We may disclose your personal information to the following third parties:

- Our website partner, Caritas Australia, who will have access to data solely to disseminate and manage information
- When required by law or legal process;
- To our third-party service providers who assist us in providing our services;

Security of Personal Information

We take reasonable measures to protect the personal information we collect from unauthorized access, disclosure, or misuse. However, no data transmission over the internet or any other electronic network can be guaranteed to be 100% secure.

Access and Correction of Personal Information

You may request access to the personal information we hold about you or request that we correct any inaccuracies in that information by contacting us at admin@natsicc.org.au

There are circumstances under Australian privacy laws where access to the personal information cannot be granted. For example, when it would unreasonably affect someone else's privacy, or pose a serious threat to another person's life, health or safety. If you request access to information you may need to provide of identity before information is disclosed and if we cannot give you access to personal information, we will tell you the reason why.

When we send you marketing materials (whether by post, email or telephone), we aim to provide you with an opportunity to opt-out (unsubscribe) to future communications. By electing not to opt-out, we will assume we have your implied consent to receive similar communications in the future.

Retention of Personal Information

We will retain your personal information for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes for which it was collected or as required by law.

Changes to Privacy Policy

We may revise this privacy policy from time to time by posting the updated policy on our website. Your continued use of our website after the effective date of any revisions constitutes your acceptance of the revised policy.
